Landscape Oil Demo by Rusty Jones

January 17 2012

6:45 - 8:45 PM

Richardson Public Library
Basement Meeting Room

Estess Ranch

Now Rusty focuses his artistic skills painting the Western American landscape. Following in the tradition of John Singer Sargent, Julian Onderdonk, Portofino Salinas, Edgar Payne and many other great American painters Rusty travels the country painting the landscapes before him. "Painting outdoors takes passion. Without it the heat, rain, snow and bugs will drive you indoors. I enjoy my time in the studio, but it doesn't make my heart race like it does when I am outside

Thunderhead

Rusty's love of sports led him into sporting art which landed him illustration assignments with such notable magazines as Golf Illustrated, Golf Magazine, the Golf Journal, the Masters Journal and the American Way Magazine. He also provided sports art for the Cocoa-Cola Foods Division for the Summer Olympics, the Dallas Cowboys NFL Team and the Dallas Mavericks NBA Team.

THE HOLIDAY CRITIQUE

The Holiday Critique was held December 13 at Suzanne's lovely home. Maureen Brouillette did the critique.

Maureen Brouillette did a great job and Suzanne's home was decorated beautifully. The food was great, too.

Thanks to Mickey Archer for the photos.

Message from the President — Susan Martin

DESIGNING DIRECTIONS → Is it already 2012?? My how time flies when life is great! Hope it is for all of you. At least it is great in the art world of the metroplex. A few of the shows which I have heard rave reviews: the “The Fashion World of Jean Paul Gaultier: From Sidewalks to Catwalks” at the Dallas Museum of Art through Feb. 12; “The Ocean Park Series” by Richard Diebenkorn at the Modern in Ft. Worth until January 15, 2012 (“like” from me) and, of course, “Carravagio and His Followers in Rome” which closed Jan. 8. All such different aspects of the world of art and so worth the effort to view!! Isn't it inspiring to see how other artists interpret their visions?
